

Biography

Joe Stuckey

CTO

Joe joined SalesCentric in 2003 and is responsible for the development and implementation of SalesCentric's CRM software system. In his role as CTO he successfully manages over fifty consultants and developers. Joe has been actively involved in managing and developing multi-million dollar projects in the technology industry for over 25 years. He is experienced in using .Net, Oracle 9I and MS SQL 2000 technology within the CRM Enterprise Software System.

After graduating from Bryman School, Phoenix, Joe started his technology career as a junior level programmer and was promoted to project manager within two years. Prior to joining SalesCentric Joe worked at Lantel Communications Inc, Texas, as vice-president of operations. During his time at Lantel he increased the revenue to $6m and project managed over fifty projects. He has also held project management positions at ORCA Technologies and Eterna Petroleum Equipment Group.

Joe has two daughters and one son, and splits his time between the UK and Texas. When not working, or watching his son at a baseball game, he enjoys playing golf.
